The Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) is digital! The test is easier to take, short, has more time per question, and comes with a built-in calculator. The test is administered on a digital device (Windows laptop, MacBook, or iPad) during school hours.

- The PSAT/NMSQT is designed to measure college readiness, and help students access scholarships, and prepare for the SAT and other competitive exams.

- It offers students an excellent and cost-effective way to practice for the SAT; the PSAT assesses the same skills as the SAT but in a Grade-appropriate way.
- Measures the core reading, writing and Maths skills students need to be ready for college and career.
- The detailed score reports help students and educators gain a deep understanding of the students' strengths and weaknesses, so they are better prepared for the SAT and strengthen their skills in key areas such as reading, writing, and mathematics.
- Even if students do not plan to take the SAT, the PSAT offers meaningful insights into their skills and helps them prepare for other similar standardised/competitive exams in India and abroad.
- =Students can send their PSAT score report to their free Khan Academy SAT practice account and get free, customised recommendations on how they should prepare for the SAT, based on their section-wise / question-wise performance on the PSAT.
- Educators and Parents receive highly detailed and meaningful data and reports on how their students performed in the PSAT, at the individual student, Grade, and school level, which can focus on skills that most need attention.

Key Benefits:

- Excellent practice for SAT / other competitive exams
- For many students, the first exposure to college admissions testing
- A chance to find out "where you stand" so that you can get prepared effectively for the real thing – the SAT
- A no-pressure opportunity to assess current skill levels
- Detailed score breakdown to guide focused practice
- Scores are not shared with colleges, ensuring a stress-free experience
- Access to AP Potential – helps identify students ready for AP courses
- Enables tracking of academic progress across high school
