

The Kalyani Chronicle

VOL. 18

27 JULY 2026

A WORLD WITHOUT THE INTERNET

- Parnika Rane

GLIMPSES OF THE BOOK FAIR

clicked by Keemaya Makhija

PRIVATISATION OF AEROSPACE: INDIA REACHES FOR THE STARS

- Kaashvi Datta

Imagine a world without the internet - a world where information could not be accessed with a few clicks and there were no apps to make life convenient. Communication would be slower, and we would depend on letters, newspapers, television, and face-to-face conversations. Students would have fewer opportunities to explore knowledge beyond their textbooks, while businesses and organisations would find it harder to work and communicate globally. Scary, isn't it? Thankfully, our world has internet now, and lots of it.

As we celebrate World Wide Web Day, let us take a moment to acknowledge and value how the web has transformed our lives by bringing information, education, entertainment, and people closer together. It has opened doors to endless possibilities and made the world feel smaller and more connected. The thought of a world without the internet reminds us not to take this remarkable invention for granted.

Caught on Camera

Clicked by Tannistha

Grade XII students discussing a circuit during their Physics class

palette of Potential

Artwork by Anya Bhatnagar, VII B

STUDENTS SPEAK: SCHOOL FUNDRAISER

Gratitude note from Aanshi, Bhuvu and Ruana (Class IX B)

(Stall selling crochet items, hand-painted bags, pouches, bookmarks) This experience went beyond earning a community service certificate. It taught us compassion, teamwork, empathy, and the importance of giving back to society.

We are grateful to our Principal, Nirmal Ma'am, the Pastoral Care Team, our teachers, families, and parents for their constant support and encouragement. Thank you to everyone who contributed to making this initiative meaningful and successful. We are proud to have been a part of it.

Gratitude note from Akshaya (VIII C), Ira (VIII C) and Bani (VIII B)

(Food items, hair accessories and rakhis)

We all, at some point, choose to care. That's how meaningful change begins - with someone choosing to care, to help. Community service is more than raising funds. It teaches us to understand other's needs, work together, and realize that even small acts of kindness can make a lasting difference. We sincerely thank our Principal, Nirmal Ma'am, the Pastoral Care Team, our teachers, parents, and everyone who guided, encouraged, and believed in us throughout this journey. We are proud to have chosen to care and contribute to this meaningful cause. We hope this is the beginning of many more opportunities to make a positive difference.

Gratitude note from Rishi Rathi (VII B), Rohan Rathi (VI C) and Etash Paposa (VI C)

(Stall selling homemade sandwiches and nachos with dips)

While the motivation was to raise funds, it also helped us to learn empathy, work in teams, communicate better, and contribute to society. It was an event which brought us all together from diverse backgrounds, age groups and walks of life - like parents, teachers, students and the organizers.

Our heartfelt thanks to the organizing committee, our Principal Nirmal Ma'am, teachers, parents and all those who contributed by buying. Thank you for this experience and learning opportunity. Looking forward to such events in the future too.

- Procured by Karan Nambisan

TYPES OF FRIENDS

Friendship Day

Casual friends

You chat with them about movies at lunch or play basketball with them, though you don't usually hang out with them after school.

Study friends

They help you with science projects, share notes, and quiz you before a big math test.

But the most special of all are your BEST FRIENDS. They know your secrets, make you laugh, and stand by you no matter what.

Activity friends

They are your teammates in sports or clubs, where you bond while practicing and teaching each other new tricks.

The Opposites

Someone you enjoy talking to even if you despise them, because their completely different insights and thoughts help you see the world from a new perspective

- Airah Madaan and Darsh Suneja

FACTS ON TIGERS

- Tigers are the biggest living cat species.
- Every tiger has a unique stripe pattern, like a fingerprint.
- Their skin is striped underneath their fur.
- Only about 5,000 tigers remain in the wild.
- India holds roughly 75% of all wild tigers.
- Tigers live and hunt alone, except for mothers with cubs.
- Unlike most cats, tigers love water, and swim well.
- They eat large prey like deer and wild boar.

World Tiger Day

- A tiger can eat 40 kg of meat in one night.
- Only 1 in 10 to 20 tigers hunts.

Diction Digest

SUSURRATION

Synonyms: Rustle, whisper, murmur

Antonyms: scream, screech, shriek

Meaning: a soft, low noise like someone whispering (speaking using their breath but not their voice)

Sentence usage: We lay on the beach listening to the susurration of the water and looking up at the sky.

Submitted by Niyati Asati

Weekly Wisdom

Exploration is really the essence of the human spirit." — Frank Borman

Meet The Editorial Squad

- Chief Editor - Ananya Komath (XII B)
- Head of Journalism - Niyati Asati (XII E)
- Journalists - Airah Madaan (VI D), Karan Nambisan (IX D), Kaashvi Datta (XII E), Nilanshu Prabhakar (VII C), Darsh Suneja (VIII A), Shreeya Zundaray (XI D), Parnika Rane (X B)
- Head of Photography - Mishka Parijat (XII E)
- Photographers - Keemaya Makhija (X B), Tannistha S. (XII B)
- Creative Head - Rahi Joshi (XII E)